Parish Council

The Council meeting on 19 May probably broke a number of records for turnout and length. The meeting lasted three hours but, we were rewarded with wine and cakes at the end of the meeting.

Turnout was disappointing, but the numbers were enhanced by the presence of Cornwall Councillor Daniel Pugh, our local MP's parliamentary assistant Chris Wilton, three members of Community Enterprises PL12 and Tony Parry of the Saltash Hopper who brought his bus to the meeting (parked outside) for villagers to inspect. Sadly, Newsletter rep, Allen Pack was the only member of the public present.

Tony Parry gave a presentation on the potential uses for the Hopper service, of which many of those present were unaware. It is available for all ages, clubs, groups and societies, and can even be booked for nights out. We hope to publish further details of this service in the next Newsletter. Details of the Community Enterprise PL12 presentation are reported elsewhere in this issue.

Visibility problems in Parish lanes, due to overgrown hedges, were discussed. The need to delay the spring cut until flowers and the cycle of hedgerow life had moved on, had to be balanced against the risk of traffic accidents, the council heard. It was agreed to write to all those responsible for maintaining roadside hedges to remind them of their responsibilities. There was disappointing news about double white lines on the A388 between Homeleigh Cottages and the Sillaton turn off. The Highways Authority is now denying they agreed to create these lines. They also now appear to be back-tracking on their commitment to erect a safety barrier at the bottom of Ziggsaaron Hill. The Council will continue to press for these matters to be completed.

The meeting heard that the new website, www.landulph.org.uk is now up and running and Katherine Williams, Clerk to the Council, is the website administrator. The website has pages concerning local history, official Council minutes and, of course, copies of the Landulph News. All Parish organisations, clubs and associations are encouraged to give Katherine Williams their contact details and, if appropriate, links to their own websites, for inclusion on the site.

The police have reported that oil has been stolen from a tank in Landrake and advise that exposed tanks in Landulph should be made secure.

There was also discussions on the latest moves by the owners of The Crooked Spaniards Inn and the development of the Solar Park, which are reported on more fully elsewhere.

Councillor Reg Price reported that the introduction of the Mobile Shop had been delayed due to a major failure in its generator for the refrigeration plant on its first outing. It has now been repaired and will be visiting LMH & Coombe Lane Tuesday mornings (see diary in this edition for details)

New plans for the Crooked Spaniards

The owners of the Crooked Spaniards Inn, Tony and Sandra Arnold, are about to unveil new plans for development of the site following the failure of their appeal against the refusal of their last proposals last year. In March this year a Pre-Planning Application was lodged on the Cornwall Planning Website but no details were available. These will be at least the fourth set of plans to be put forward since they bought the Inn.

Mr and Mrs Arnold have appointed new consultants and architects to work on the revised proposals. At its recent meeting the Parish Council was told by Chairman, Councillor Gerry Stevenson, that he had been asked to attend a private briefing with the Arnolds and their team but councillors insisted that any meeting should be with all the democratically elected Parish representatives. The purpose of such a meeting would be to hear the current thinking of the developers on how to address the reasons for refusal detailed in the Planning Inspectors report on last year's application. This would be followed by full public consultation with parishioners. Watch this space and the Cornwall Council

Landulph Under Fives

We've now furnished and moved into our new room which is a wonderful play and learning environment and now open from 9am on preschool mornings. This term the children will be looking closely at mini-beasts and insects as well as learning about the lifecycles of birds and frogs. They'll be exploring Spring time and learning about the days of the week along with measuring time in simple ways.

Children moving up to school in September have been invited to go up to school weekly from the beginning of June. These afternoons will provide children with the opportunity to get used to the school setting, sit in the classroom, work in the school garden and see the other children at the school.

Thank you to all who came along to support the Easter Egg Hunt, it was great to see so many of you enjoying yourselves and to showcase the new preschool room. The day was a huge success with 48 eggs found and a whopping £220 raised for the preschool! Thank you to Jo and Carly for organising such a fantastic day!

Top performers come to Landulph

Local and international artists are coming to Landulph Parish Church for recitals in June. First on stage is the accomplished and well regarded South West Chamber Choir who will be performing madrigals and partsongs with a summer theme on Saturday 7 June, starting at 7.30pm. Included in the programme will be folksongs arranged by the choir's Music Director, Stephen Trahair and some cabaret numbers – truly a programme for all tastes. Tickets: £7 in advance (wegottickets.com) or £8 at the door, under 16s free.

Tel: 01752 847546 for details

Meinhard Holler

Later in the month, Sunday 22 June at 6pm, the internationally renowned trio of Rebekka Hartman (violin), Caroline Bergius (harpsichord) and Meinhard Holler (cello), will be performing trios and solos by Bach, Handel and Buxtehude. This is a rare opportunity to hear music of the highest quality on our own doorstep. Advanced booking is recommended. Tickets cost £10 in advance (Tel: 01752 847546) or £12 on the door. Under 16s get in free.

Money raised at both these concerts goes towards the Church Fabric Fund.

Electric Fields

Anyone driving into the parish down Ziggerson Hill, or driving out of the parish past Wayton, cannot have failed to have noticed the large Solar Park that has sprung up at North Wayton. But, what's it all about? Well, the site covers an area of some 41.5 acres and its generating capacity, when it becomes operational, is stated to be some 7MW (mega watts) with an estimated annual output of 7.35MWh mega watt hours), equivalent to the needs of 1,488 houses in Cornwall. With a population of around 500 souls I would estimate the total number of dwellings in the parish to be in the region of 300, so that's nearly 5 times the total electrical requirement for the parish.

Planning consent for the development was granted on 8 April 2013. That consent is 'temporary' and lasts for a period of 25 years after which the panels must be decommissioned and dismantled. The operator of the installation is a company called KS SPV21 Limited, a wholly owned subsidiary of a German company Kronos Solar Projects GmbH. Very little in the way of objections were raised at the planning stage although I suspect some failed to appreciate just how large the development was going to be, and the visual impact it would have on the surrounding area. One might be tempted to question why we have such a large development which is forecast to generate 5 times our need. One answer is that there is something else in this for us, the parish. As part of the planning conditions, a unilateral undertaking was given by the applicants whereby the applicants would either furnish any buildings owned by the parish with solar panels or provide a lump sum payment of £30,000. Not surprisingly, given the lack of suitable buildings owned by the parish, the Parish Council elected for the latter.

These monies are to be held by Cornwall Council for the benefit of the parish of Landulph. There is some debate over whether there are any restrictions as to usage. The unilateral undertaking itself is unclear. The key issue is that the funding must be used for the benefit of the parish as a whole, and this has to be agreed with Cornwall Council before they will release the funds. I understand that the Parish Council would welcome opinions from all sections of the community as to the sort of project which might benefit the community as a whole. Suggestions for good ways to spend the money should be sent to the Parish Clerk, Katherine Williams. For me, the one unanswered question is, given the Law of Physics which states that the total energy of an isolated system cannot change, does the proliferation of these solar parks make the world an imperceptibly darker place?

Memorial tree for Les Clark

Over 20 people gathered in the Church car park on Saturday 29th March to dedicate a tree planted in memory of Les Clark by his family and fellow bell ringers. Roger Desborough led a touching service of dedication, after which the bells were rung in Les's honour. Les was Tower Captain at Landulph church from 1966 until his death last year and he encouraged and instructed many ringers during this time. Anyone thinking of taking up bell ringing at Landulph should contact the current Tower Captain Terry Darke on 01752 846040. We are really short of ringers, so don't be shy and keep the bells pealing at our church!

Landulph Film Club

We need your advice...

Landulph Film Club runs eight monthly screenings over the winter months and seems to be enjoyed by the 30 or more regulars. We are puzzled that not more people come along to enjoy the social evenings of films, refreshments and meeting friends. Can you help us with this puzzle?

What films or types of films would like to see that we are not showing?

What films or types of films have we been showing that you'd prefer not to see?

Would you prefer to see recent films which you have missed, rather than older films?

What titles would you particularly like to see?

What is your favourite film of them all?

We'd really like to know how to attract a bigger audience, so we're asking you for your views. Please give us your inputs as we plan the programme for the 2014 – 2015 season. More about this in the next newsletter.

Thanks from the Film Club.

Summer Outings for Gardeners

The Gardening Club is now in summer mode with monthly outdoor visits. On a sunny evening in May we visited the garden of Middlewood House at Berriowbridge on the River Lynher. The drive back was particularly spectacular with a huge full moon appearing just behind Kit Hill. We plan to drive south-west on 11 June to Hidden Valley Gardens and Nursery, near Par, in the morning and Waye Cottage, Lerryn in the afternoon. Both these gardens are more summery and described as 'cottage gardens'. We will meet at the Memorial Hall to car-share at 9 for 9.15 but this will be confirmed.

In July, on the 11th, at 6pm, Rose and Neil Cradick have invited members (plus a guest if they want) to Tamara to see their cherry orchard. There won't be a meeting during August but I hope you'll be relaxing in your gardens!

Did you realise!

That you could have a light lunch twice a month on alternate Wednesdays at a very reasonable price? On the first Wednesday in the month the Methodist school room is open for a 'Soup, Sweet & Coffee' lunch at 12 noon for just £4. The third Wednesday in each month the Rectory Room is open for a 'Pasty, Sweet & Coffee' lunch at 12 noon for just £3.

Whether you are a church/chapel goer or not these functions are pleasant and friendly gatherings. So why not come along and sample these lunches: see the Diary for dates.

Landulph School News

Farewell to Mrs Yull

As many of you may be aware Mrs Yull retires at the end of this term after 25 years with Landulph School, we shall all be very sorry to see her leave and I am sure that you would like to join us in wishing her a long and happy retirement. We are also looking forward to getting to know Mrs Yull's replacement, Miss Florence Neeves, who has just been appointed following a rigorous selection process, and will be in school for various events over the remainder of the summer term.

We were thrilled to learn that two of our teams have secured places in the national final of the Jaguar Cars in Motion competition, which is now in its 12th season. Mr Jones from Saltash.net visits a number of local primary schools for a number of weeks and works with pupils to create a virtual racing car, using a variety of mathematical tasks, in an effort to win a series of races. Congratulations go to Jamie, Nathan, Matt & Jonny who will be representing our school. The final takes place at the National Heritage Centre, Warwickshire on Wednesday 25 June where our pupils will compete against 14 other schools.

After half-term we are looking forward to our pupils competing in a Primary Schools Hockey tournament organised by Marjon. The pupils have been practicing hard learning hockey this term in the free after school hockey club run by Mr Arundell.

Small Parish – big funds

A coffee morning organized by the Cargreen Cancer Research UK Fundraising Committee in May raised over £750. This was a great sum from a small community.

The committee would like to thank all who came, made cakes, donated bric a brac, bought raffle tickets and drunk coffee and ate Mary's delicious cakes. Left over plants, books and bric-a-brac were sold later at a car boot sale.

Our next fundraiser is on Sunday 28 September at Landulph Memorial Hall. We plan to do a Ploughman's lunch followed by delicious puddings.

Gaye Braund and the committee.

Landulph Would Welcome A Woman Priest

At its last meeting members of the Landulph Parochial Church Council officially voted to welcome the ministry of a woman priest both presiding at a service of Holy Communion and fulfilling the role of incumbent or priest in charge. The PCC unanimously rescinded what are helpfully called Resolutions A and B which called for only male candidates.

Although there is no immediate prospect of an appointment, our new Rector will be resident in Calstock and responsible for our benefice of Landulph Pillaton St Dominik and St Mellion and that of Calstock, Harrowbarrow and Gunnislake – quite an undertaking. But it is hoped that a ‘house for duty’ will be provided when the current St Mellion Rectory is developed. A house for duty is just that: the Church of England will provide a house for a priest in return for his or her ministry in support of the incumbent. In Landulph we have prepared our Statement of Needs, painting a picture of life in Landulph parish and the particular gifts we would seek in a new incumbent. Meanwhile, despite the current lack of a parish priest, two services take place in the combined Benefice each Sunday as listed on the village notice boards. The PCC is very grateful to our Readers and local retired clergy for continuing to minister to us, and to friends of the church who help us in practical ways – grass and hedge cutting, drain unblocking etc, as well as church cleaning and flower arranging. Two trees have been planted recently in the grassy area beside the church car park, in memory of Les Clark and John Barrett, and we are grateful to Roger Desborough for taking the ceremonies that accompanied the plantings.

If you could spare a little time to help maintain and support your parish church in any way, would like to plant a tree in memory of a loved one or have a request for a baptism, wedding or funeral, please get in touch with the Churchwardens, Richard Hosking or Nigel Johnson.

Help the Fête

The village Fête will be held on Saturday 16 August. The fine weather option is for the event to be held on the grass in the church car park although last year’s wet weather alternative, squashed up in the church, was great fun. Any offers of ideas or help would be most warmly welcomed. Please give them to Churchwardens Richard Hosking, Tel: 846873, or Nigel Johnson, Tel: 841520.

Show us what you can do!

Now is the time to start practicing your party pieces for the annual Village Night at the Landulph Festival of Music and the Arts. Whether you're young or old, a solo performer or a group, the evening needs your particular talents to add to the variety acts on this special night. Use the summer to brush up your comedy routine or dance numbers, musical pieces or humorous recitations and make a date for Saturday 11 October. You name it – the village wants it.

Contact impresario and compere Nigel Johnson to discuss your contribution to the fun by calling 01752 841520 or email

hawkridgestates@aol.cco.uk

Headline events at this year's Festival, which runs from 2 to 12 October, include the premier of a new work by the innovative film music group, Wurlitzer, international violin duo Retorica, jazz combo Ain't Misbehavin' and, for younger parishioners, a Mad Hatter's Tea Party. More details will be announced in the next Newsletter.

Time to join the 100 Club

The Landulph Memorial Hall 100 Club is a monthly raffle with prizes currently of £20, £14 and £9 each month. It costs just £1 per month to join and the profits go towards the upkeep for the Hall. The more people who join the larger the prizes can be so it's an easy and fun way to help the hall.

If you would like to become a member please contact Carolyn Pickard, Rose Cottage, Fore Street, Tel: 01752 848983; email cjnorth67@btinternet.com.

Raffle raises big money
Thanks to all of you who generously bought tickets and helped raise a fantastic £515 towards the Next Generation room at the Landulph Memorial Hall. Congratulations to all the prize winners especially Mavis Edmonds who won the top prize of £100.

In Memory of Winter and Praise of Spring

Those wet and windy days that held us indoors most of the winter, or soaked and froze us to the marrow, are now mostly memories which have kindly presented us with piles of warming logs, and a perfect, lush green spring.

On one heart stopping fearful night of deepest low pressure, with the wind and rain horizontally howling in from the south west, and the tide flowing in fast, just about high water, we fought our way along the lane to the next door's gate. Battling down to the river we found the water pounding over the small quay and sprawling itself in gigantic waves up, over and passed the grass. The visibility was minimal, and the noise appalling when out of the deluge a small rowing boat came hurtling past and flew up along the edge of the river. With all elements at least in a favourable direction, the occupant, rowing with calm and determined furry, seemingly in control, disappeared in the blink of an eye into the howling, watery night. Was it you? We'd like to know because we looked out for up-turned boats and dead rowers for days, but never heard or saw a thing. Have you any ideas?

Now that spring's here with a greater abundance of flowers than ever, our lane is a perfect picture of blue, pink, yellow and white, and that uplifting green of spring. The garden is full of birds, dashing around feeding their young; the house martins making their mud huts under the eaves and the swallows in the wood shed doing the same. Out on the river a lot of the birds have left us to nest elsewhere to be replaced on Friday nights by the CYC cadets dotting the river with their colourful sails dashing up and down trailing the sound of their laughter.

The joggers are out jogging and the walkers out walking and the village dogs are visiting with their folk. Then the children and I pack up our breakfast and head out to Egypt Bay, taking it in turns to row and eating our stores long before we land in Devon.

It's so lovely to be 'through' and out into spring. Best of all we have the whole summer in front of us. Let it be a good one, please.
