The Newsletter is very grateful to the Festival Committee for their donation of £100 and the Footpaths Group for their donation of £25.

Landulph Parish Council

What happened when we weren't looking?

Has a new record been set at the Parish Council meeting on 17 December, when not a single member of Landulph parish was present? Clearly there were other attractions on the night at this festive season, but it provided councillors with an opportunity for unparalleled freedom of expression during their deliberations.

The Council was pleased to welcome back its Chairman, Andrew Butcher, from his long rest in the Antipodes. Obviously he was attracted home by the rumours of a White Christmas.

However the agenda was short and unexciting, with footpaths and salt bins being the main topics of debate. It was agreed to fill the empty salt bin in Hodders Way and explore the possibility of placing a new bin at the junction of Coombe Lane and Fore Street.

At the Planning Meeting, an application to replace an existing conservatory at Rose Cottage was approved.

In the absence of a public forum, the councillors indulged in an orgy of mince pies and sherry to celebrate the time of year.

Council Meeting on 21 January

This was another meeting at which the Council was underwhelmed by the numbers of the public present, which included one parishioner and one Cornwall Councillor.

Perhaps the key issue for the meeting was a discussion about the feasibility of setting up a formal parish council website. There are legal issues and clearly the details would have to be kept up to date. However, this was seen as an important step forward in enabling the Council to communicate more effectively with the parish about relevant issues. It could also have links to other websites such as the Yacht Club or the Memorial Hall, for example. The idea was approved, in principle, but further investigation into the costs and practical issues needs to be carried out.

It was noted that the Government was offering Cornwall Council and parishes some transitional grants aimed at minimising any increases in Council Tax for 2013/2014 The Parish Council agreed to accept the grant, and reduce its planned precept in order to maintain the total funds needed at the originally proposed level of £9100.

It was noted that a new salt bin had been positioned at the junction of Coombe Lane and Fore Street. The old bin down Hodders Way had been repositioned and filled with salt before Christmas.

Issues were raised about Footpath 4 and its new stile which does not comply with current legislation. Damage to the kissing gate at Wayton on Footpath 9 was also noted. These matters were being referred to the footpaths Officer at Cornwall Council.

The Chairman commented that parishioners may expect to receive a questionnaire concerning local housing development and the need for affordable housing in the parish.

The Council has been advised by Cornwall Highways that the markings at the Stockadon and Paynters Cross junctions on the A388 are to be revised to prevent dangerous overtaking manoeuvres and enable drivers to make the turns safely.

Potholes were raised as a problem. Rather than wait for Council meetings, parishioners are urged to contact the Parish Clerk, who will relay their concerns to Cornwall Highways, although it was noted that Cornwall has a bigger budget to compensate motorists for damage to their cars than for making repairs to the roads themselves.

Dare you?

You don't have to be a Film Club season ticket holder to share the enjoyment of specially-selected movies in the comfort of your own Memorial Hall. All you need is £5 and a cushion.

"Rashomon" (February's film) is a challenge – made in 1950, Japanese with subtitles, so ahead of its time in the use of camera and dialogue that it stimulated a whole new chapter in film-making across the world. It's about a murder, but the witness accounts and the camera's various views of the same scenes implant doubts about the nature of truth, that the truth of a situation depends on the perspective of the viewer/participant. The word rashomon is now sometimes used as shorthand to describe a contentious situation. This movie is revered as a timeless masterpiece. Dare you miss it?

March offers you "Driving Miss Daisy" (1989) with Mandela-lookalike Morgan Freeman playing chauffeur to irascible Jewish mama Miss Daisy. This is unapologetic feel-good cinema set in the 1950s with human warmth overcoming racial prejudice. Great acting. What's not to like?

Fire Dancers Beat the Rain

The musicians may have had to retreat to the Slipway Quay garages but the dancers braved a steady drizzle to stage a second spectacular Fire Dance on 21 December at Slipway Quay.

Around 16 dancers and four musicians took part in the display, created by Bill Langdon to mark the Winter Solstice. Despite the weather, the audience was large and enthusiastic, and included a number of children and young people.

A surprise bonus attraction was provided by Kate Langdon and her fire juggling and swinging. After the 'professionals' had strutted their stuff, the public was invited to try the dance while mulled wine and food were served in the garage. You can watch the spectacle on YouTube <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=LQojQ4OAU6w>

Wellies, Woollies and a Walk through Christmas

“Pentillie Castle opened its doors to hundreds of excited families for their Christmas Nativity - Wellies, Woollies and a Walk through Christmas. The weather held off for the lantern, torch and glow stick bearing group who followed an Innkeeper’s Wife and a Time Traveller through the candle-lit grounds of Pentillie Castle to find Baby Jesus. They met shepherds, kings, sheep and the donkey Polly along the way, who all helped to reveal the real meaning of Christmas.

On an evening filled with fun and laughter the audience got into the Christmas spirit, enjoying mince pies, mulled wine, hot chocolate, and carols around the Christmas Tree. Pentillie would like to thank Moonstone Theatre for writing the script especially to take in the magical fairy-lit walk through the gardens telling the Christmas story. Pentillie is also grateful to Soperfect images for the fabulous photographs, Captain Rich Long for being chief choir boy and leading the singing so beautifully. Members of Plymouth Youth Music Services provided fantastic music and Pentillie were delighted to make a donation to their organisation.

Theatre Comes to Cargreen

Another February, another theatre event offered by the Landulph Festival of Music and the Arts.

This year we present The Last Illusion a magical, mystery show. This is a production by the Bash Street Theatre Co who put on our first theatre event, Silent Movie: The Lion Tamer three years ago.

A retired magician and his assistant remember their days spent 'treading the boards' in variety theatres of a bygone age. Invited at the last minute to take part in a cabaret evening, Rene and Renaldo agree to prepare for one last farewell performance.

This is a magical mix of music, silent comedy and illusion.

Please put them into your diary now!

New ideas for Landulph Festival

Extra seats had to be put out at the Festival's AGM on Tuesday 22 January to cope with the 30 or more people who attended. Appreciation was heaped on to retiring committee members, Amy Cloake, Nicky and Steve Toynton, Trisha Langdon and Terry Dark for their services to the Festival over many years. A considerable number of useful and entertaining suggestions were heard both from the new Chairman, Annemarie Nathan and the floor. The notion of a loose mediaeval theme including a minstrel-banquet was floated.

The Festival will be a little shorter this year, running from 27 September to 5 October. But it will be supported by additional events throughout the year.

Nomination and election of Officers and Committee Members was an uncontentious affair. Annemarie Nathan having been elected to the Chair, Other new officers and members were welcomed on to the committee, including Steve Oaten (Treasurer), Jane Espig (art exhibition representative), Kirsty Evans and James Jermain.

Landulph Under Fives

What a busy run-up to Christmas we had! The children from Pre-School and Baby & Toddler group went to visit Father Christmas at the Donkey Park, we entertained parents with our Christmas concert and Santa visited the children at Pre-School and Baby & Toddler group. We were all thoroughly festive by the end of it! A big thank-you to Nigel Johnson for stepping in at the last minute to be our special visitor! We really enjoyed visiting Landulph School for the Nativity & Carol Concert, the Pre-School children behaved beautifully and we all enjoyed watching our ex-preschoolers.

It is with great sadness that we say Good-bye to our Deputy Pre-School leader. Jayne has found a job closer to home, their gain is our loss. We will be advertising and looking to recruit a suitably qualified individual as soon as possible.

The new term brings lots of exciting new topics for Pre-School including: animals, pets and their homes and Chinese New Year. We would be grateful if anyone has a pet they would be willing to come and share with the Pre-School, please phone 840093.

Village Walk, 27 December

In spite of recent flooding, 47 folk and the occasional dog braved the mud and ventured forth for our annual post-Christmas walk. Most of the Parish routes were tramped over, but the inappropriately named Paradise Lane was avoided; squelchy at the best of times, a pre-event recce deemed it best avoided.

In the event, the rain held off, apart from an occasional light shower, and it didn't seem particularly cold.

For the short walk however, which was mostly families (and wimps!), after an initial few minutes of rain at the start, it was a beautiful sunny day.

Cargreen Yacht Club provided our lunch venue, with the now customary hot pasty/homemade soup option. We are grateful to the Club, the galley slaves and Reg Rice for their support.

Local Christmas Cards

The people who opted out of giving local Christmas cards were listed in the Oct/Nov 2012 Landulph News.

Instead they gave a money gift to the Salvation Army Children's Christmas Party. Thanks to their generosity I was able to send a cheque for £345 to the chosen charity.

Receipt and letters of thanks have been posted on all of the village notice boards.

News from Landulph School

Everyone enjoyed many Christmas themed events at Landulph School over the festive period which included a carol service with a Nativity Tableau, Christmas Evening with the Stars of Landulph School and class parties to name but a few.

We are again delighted to welcome another new pupil to Year 5 and look forward to getting to know him and his family. Sadly two of our pupils left just before Christmas for the sunny climes of Cyprus which sounded very exciting. We wish them well in their new international school.

You may have heard that Mrs Worth plans to retire at the end of the summer term 2013. The governors will decide this month on what direction the school should take for a replacement as there are now a number of options available. Whatever the outcome, a new face will be seen around school hopefully during the summer term.

This term we look forward to continuing our free after school clubs of football, netball, cross country, tag rugby and art. On a recent check on these clubs over 90% of pupils in Y3 – Y6 attend a free after school club.

We are holding a whole school Art day on the 29 January led by our very artistic class 2 teacher Miss McMillan. The Art day is themed for the Chinese New Year and the pupils will also be able to enjoy a Chinese menu for school dinner on this day.

We have already started preparing for our annual residential visit which this year will take place at the Cornwall Outdoor Learning centre at Porthpean. All our Y5 and Y6 pupils will enjoy three days of outdoor activities, many of which are water based and may include coasteering. The accommodation provided is under canvas, so we really hope for fine weather for them in July.

In Memoriam – Les Clark

We are sad to announce that one of Cargreen's oldest residents, Les Clark, died on Tuesday 8 January in Derriford hospital at the age of 93. He was born in Rose Cottage, Cargreen on 9 September 1919. He went to school in the Old Schoolhouse.

During World War II he served in the Royal Engineers and fought in both in the Desert and Italy before being demobbed In 1946. When he came back to Cargreen he went into building and worked on the first of the Church Lane council houses starting on No1. He stayed in the building trade until he retired in 1963.

In his retirement he enjoyed travelling and managed to reach most of the places he had always wanted to visit. He also loved his swimming and only stopped quite recently because of ill health. He was captain of the Bell Ringers at Landulph church until he died, and taught many young bell ringers.

His memory of village life, particularly of the days just before and after the War was fantastic. He made many recordings with the BBC, some of which are available one, a CD, can be bought through the Newsletter. He was also a major contributor to our World War II booklet.

Landulph Gardening Club

"Before Christmas" seems a long time ago now, but about 24 people enjoyed supper at the Weary Friar. Jo Butcher and Neil Cradick put on a photo show of sun-drenched Mediterranean gardens, far away from our current sodden situation.

Our programme begins on Wednesday 13 February at 7.30pm when there will be practical help and confidence building by Barry Richards and others on the best way to stage entries for the Spring Show. On Wednesday 13 March at 7.30pm Mark Wash, a regular speaker at our club, will tell us about "Bulbs and Perennials in Harmony". Mark specialises in growing more unusual bulbs particularly those originating in South Africa. The April talk on Wednesday 10 at 7.30pm will be by Jenny Turley Price on her work in restoring the walled gardens at Maristow.

Coming back to preparations for the Spring Show, we plan a floral art workshop on Monday 4 March. This will be open to all (not just the Garden Club) and will be run by local florist, Catherine Date. The cost is £20 for a half day course and materials will be supplied. If you'd like to come, we'll need a deposit of £10 as soon as possible. Please contact Jo Butcher on 844302 or me on 846504.

Don't forget the Spring Show on Saturday 23 March at 2pm and start looking for likely exhibits. Schedules will be available during February.

We look forward to seeing you at any of these events and new members always welcome!

Jen Hambly, Chairman

Landulph Memorial Hall

A Happy New Year to all who use the Hall and also to those of you who may be thinking of renting it for an event this year. If you wish to know more about rental charges or facilities please see the notice board for details or contact the booking clerk Nikki Gill (01752 846941) or me.

Children's Christmas film show It was a happy morning for all those who came to see the films on the Saturday before Christmas and a good wind down after the end of term. Thanks to all who helped.

100 Club Gaye Braund, who runs the 100 club wishes the winners of the January 100 club draw to know that they will not receive their prize money as promptly as normal owing to the books being with the accountant. This is due to the preparation of the annual accounts prior to the Hall AGM.

PRS/PRL licences have been at a cost of £220 + VAT for the year. This will cover all groups using the Hall, and any fund raising events the Hall Committee organises. Please speak to Diane Gregory if you need more information about this.

PRS for Music is the trading name of the Performing Rights Society Ltd. The 'public performance right' is one of the elements of copyright.

Phonographic Performance Limited (PPL) was set up by the record industry in 1934 as a non-profit-making organisation to grant licences for the broadcasting of recorded music such as CDs, tapes and records in public.

Blackboard and chalks For some while now events at the Hall or in the village are publicised on a blackboard at Landulph Cross. If you wish to use the Hall blackboard or chalks we are asking for a donation of £2.00, which will cover the costs of new chalks and blackboard paint. The land at the cross belongs to Mr and Mrs Stevenson. I am sure all organisations ask for permission before placing the board on their land.

Development of a dedicated facility for Under 5s There will be an open event shortly for all who live in the area to come and see the plans for this interesting new facility. We want to explain why we think this is needed and how we hope to achieve it. We will need a lot of help with fundraising and ask for your support.

AGM The AGM of the Hall will take place at 7pm on Wed March 6 and all who live in the parish are invited to attend. All organisations that use the Hall are asked to send a representative to the meeting.
