Your guide to what's happening in the area

Issue No 54 December 2014/January 2015

Parish Council

The long and short of it

An exceptionally long Parish Council meeting in November finally agreed on how to dispose of the £30,000 windfall money from the North Wayton Solar Park. The money, which has been confirmed as being paid over, will fund two projects at the Landulph Memorial Hall.

The larger project will improve the acoustics and lighting in the main hall with acoustic wall panels, a false ceiling and integrated lighting costing a total of £9,800. The second project will improve the safety of the Under-5's outdoor play area and upgrade some of the equipment. The cost will be in the region of £7,600.

Village mathematicians will note a discrepancy between the funds available and funds allocated. The Council agreed to hold the balance in reserve for suitable future projects which might include refurbishment and renewal at the playground on the recreation field and the production of a Neighbourhood Planning Scheme.

Apart from the good news that local police reported no crime or accidents in the village in the last month (happily a regular state of affairs), the rest of the meeting contained little of general interest.

In its planning persona the Council agreed to recommend approval for three applications:

- The replacement of a garage/hayloft with ancillary accommodation at Church Cottage
- The replacement of two barns with new cattle and storage buildings at Park Farm
- The erection of a small outboard store and dinghy stowage racks at the Cargreen Yacht Club.

Newsletters back online

The old parish website landulph.com was run by Roger Creagh-Osborne but as he now lives elsewhere, the site will close. Before it does, its archive of Parish Newsletters is being moved to a new website which is run by the Parish Council at www.landulph.org.uk. By the time you read this, virtually all copies of the newsletter since 2006 should be on that site, together with separate booklets such as "Landulph – a Parish at War". The newsletter group is grateful to the Parish Council for hosting this service, and to the parish clerk for archiving the material.

Cargreen Doctors' Clinic

Parishioners will be glad to know that the Doctors' clinics at the Memorial Hall will now be held every Tuesday at 10.45 am (no Friday clinics).

Landulph Memorial Hall

WW1 Commemoration: 'This was a lovely exhibition with very poignant recollections' was how one parishioner described the event, held at Landulph Memorial Hall. It was one of the easiest events I have organised at the hall in my time as Chair. Everyone was so keen to be involved and thank you to all of you who made it happen.

Christmas Tree: My thanks to an anonymous donor who is giving a Christmas tree to the hall. This will be placed in the outside porch and decorated with lights.

New volunteers: New committee members will be needed for the hall committee soon, as the secretary and chair will be retiring at the AGM.

Bowls Tournament: As they left people were asking if the event would be repeated next year, and someone's response was 'there is no need to wait until next year, we play here every Wednesday and Thursday so do come along'.

School plans Christmas Fayre

A Christmas wonderland comes to Landulph Memorial Hall on the 12 December. Everyone is welcome to come along between 5pm and 10pm for an evening of fun with Christmas cheer all round. The Fayre will include craft stalls, tombola games and a raffle. A special Children's only area in our Santa's workshop run by happy elves and even the big man himself will be there to lend a helping hand. Warm up with some delicious mulled wine or sit down in the German Market area for a Bratwurst Sausage or just enjoy a warm mince pie with a hot chocolate whilst the children of Landulph School sing carols. The bar is open for those who would prefer something stronger. This is a fantastic opportunity for the people in our village and surrounding areas, to get together and have some festive fun with all the funds go to Landulph School. Spread the word and bring some friends - the more the merrier, and merry it will be.

Landulph Under Fives

Welcome to Ivy who joined us this term. The children have been busy in the last month and we hope you enjoyed the field of poppies display for the remembrance exhibition in the hall which they had fun creating.

Everyone had a fantastic time at the Halloween Disco at the end of term with lots of scary costumes, face painting and a cake sale. Thanks to Jo for organising and to all those who helped.

Some of the spooky characters at the Halloween Disco

Topics during this next half term will include learning all about bears, hibernation and of course famous storybook bears. In the run up to Christmas we plan to visit Pennywell Farm and perform a nativity there with live animals. If anyone would like to donate the following: old CDs, saucepans, whisks, metal or wooden spoons, sieves and plastic or metal jugs, small Christmas decorations, gold coloured objects or a small sized artificial Christmas tree these would be gratefully accepted.

We wish one and all a Happy Christmas and look forward to updating you in the New Year!

Landulph School News

What an exciting term so far: Forest Schools, Cross Country Events, Life Skills, Sports Festivals, Grandparents' Lunch, Mad Hatter's Tea Party for Children In Need and we have been on air on Pirate FM!

All the pupils are attending Forest School over a number of sessions this term. The three main rules for Forest School are to: Look after yourself, look after each other and look after the environment. The children are taught to respect the environment and how to minimise the ecological impact that we can have on it.

We were delighted to have fielded four complete Cross Country teams in the league so far; our teams have competed at Great Trethew and Port Eliot with great results. Our Year 5 pupils attended a fantastic Life Skills event in Liskeard. Key Stage 1 and Key Stage 2 pupils joined with other local primary schools for Sports Festivals and learnt a range of new sporting skills. Our annual Grandparents' Lunch was a huge success and we were delighted to welcome 20 grandparents into school, one was even spotted playing football during the lunch break! Tina and Neil joined us from Pirate FM for their school dinner's feature. The feature was broadcast on Friday 7th November. If you missed it don't worry, you can listen online at the PirateFM website http://www.piratefm.co.uk/onair/cornwall-school-dinners/ the pupils sounded amazing. We are so proud of them all. We also prepared some work for the World War 1 exhibition at the Memorial Hall and we hope that many of you were able to visit and see some of what our children have been up to.

We recently attended the local Parish Council meeting to present our bid for the Solar Panel funding. We took time to seek the views of staff and governors and most importantly, the children to decide on the one thing that would make the most impact for us as well as benefit the community as a whole. We felt strongly that a Landulph community minibus would really help us reach out further to the community and take advantage of our surroundings; we felt that this would be the same for Landulph residents. The children really are at the heart of the community in Landulph and as a small school, we gratefully receive the support given by interested members of the village as this allows us to widen the children's experiences and knowledge. Following on from the meeting, we feel that we would really like to strengthen our relationship with the community and ensure that it is positive for all and invite you all to our Christmas Service on Friday 19th December at 9:15am. Please do join us in our school hall if you can as you would all be most welcome.

Walk off the Christmas Pud on 27th December

Each year, after the Christmas break, we walk as many of the local Parish footpaths as we can, in three groups, catering for all abilities.

We start and finish at the Yacht Club, where a small group of dedicated and hard working folk will be waiting to reward you with hot soup (home made), bread and pasties for a nominal sum, after your exertions. The bar will also be open.

Long walk (about 5 miles) starts at 10:00 am.

Middle walk (about 3 miles) starts at 10:30.

Short walk (about 2 miles) starts at 11:30.

So do please come along for some gentle exercise and a friendly get-together.

(Stout footwear advised!)

Methodist News

Rev Jonathan Budd joined us in September as our new Superintendent Minister; his first service was the Harvest Festival on Sunday 21 September with Barbara Snowling taking the evening service on Monday 22 September; sale of produce and supper followed. Soup and Sweet lunches continue on the first Wednesday of each month and Get Together is on the second Wednesday at 2 00pm. Everyone welcome. Don't forget our Annual Carol Service on Sunday 14 December at 3 00pm with the usual mince pies and cup of tea.

Mavis Edmonds

Film Club proudly presents...

The new programme of recent movies is attracting new viewers, and the future titles should keep up the momentum. However for December we're showing Howards End (1992) because it was a popular choice in our recent poll and because it's a great film. Set in 1910 it observes the collision of the families of rich stuffed shirt Anthony Hopkins and modern liberated Emma Thompson in and around the house called Howards End. Surely one of Britain's best period dramas. January brings Gerard Depardieu in My Afternoons with Marguerite as a dullard whose mind is stimulated by a chance encounter with a book-loving old lady and has his life transformed. The film may be short on action but full of humanity at its best, as was Driving Miss Daisy. Totally unsuitable for Willis/Stallone admirers. To read fuller descriptions of the whole programme until April 2015, please see www.landulphfestival.co.uk

Cornish Jam in Cargreen

Local band, Cornish Jam is in serious rehearsals for its charity concert at the Landulph Memorial Hall on Saturday 6 December. The combo will be playing its new repertoire which includes musical styles as diverse as Paris jazz, blues, country, folk and rock, so there is something for all tastes and ages. The concert is being staged in aid of Heartswell, the local heart charity.

Doors will open at 7.30. Entry is £5 a head. Tickets are available in advance from James Jermain (847546)

Valentine's Night party is back

Landulph Under Fives will be holding another Valentines live band, disco & bar fundraiser on Saturday 14 February next year. We hope to see lots of the community and friends for another enjoyable social while helping the pre-school raise much needed funds. We would also appreciate your advance help with donations of bottles of spirits for the bar and donations of wine and gifts for the raffle. If you are able to help, please contact Jo Pearson 845280. We are hoping that next year the weather will be kinder to us and we avoid storms, gale force winds, swollen rivers and fallen trees!! Full details to follow in the New Year.

Landulph Festival thanks

To everyone who came, made food, served drinks, put up posters, cleared up after events, supported us by becoming Festival Friends, or helped in any other way, a huge THANK YOU from the Festival Committee. As a result - and at the risk of repeating what I said last year ... the feedback the Committee has received is that this Festival was the Best Yet! Attendance was up, the events had a relaxed and friendly atmosphere, and all the performers asked to come back again as they had really enjoyed their time with us. The standard of art in the exhibition improves every year: we had 115 entries, including spectacular masks made at a pre-Festival workshop and some excellent work from the Landulph school children. All the music events enjoyed high calibre performances, and the more informal events, such as the children's Mad Hatter's Tea Party and Village Night, were also great fun. A good number were fascinated to learn about the pioneering Edwardian local woodcarver Violet Pinwill. Planning for next year's Festival has already started. Please let our Committee members know your thoughts and ideas, or better still come to the Festival AGM at 6.00pm on Tuesday 10 February in the Rectory Room where you will also learn which local organisations have benefited from Festival proceeds. We will be looking for fresh input on the Committee, so if you would be interested in joining an informal and friendly planning group we would really be pleased to hear from you. After eight years I am stepping down as Festival Committee Secretary as from the AGM, so if you have computer skills and might be interested please be brave and step forward. If you would like to know a bit more about it before committing yourself, I would be very happy to give you an idea of what is involved.

A thriller to break the monotony of winter!

A police interview room: a woman has been detained for questioning after her boss has been found dead in suspicious circumstances. In a room down the hall her colleague also awaits interview. Just routine. But what if the monotony of routine was responsible for pushing one of them over the edge?

When does bored become bored to death? After all, perhaps it's not unusual for employees of an adhesive company to feel a little... stuck. Landulph Festival presents Above Bored, an OwDyado Theatre Production, at the Landulph Memorial Hall on 6 February at 8.00pm. The play is an original psychological drama with a wide streak of dark comedy directed by Simon Harvey (Kneehigh o-region) supported by National Lottery Funding through Arts Council England. Tickets £10

Letter to the editor

As winter approaches, can I say a big thank you to Jennie and Tony Rayment for organising the Landulph Oil group. It runs very smoothly, and we all benefit from the more competitive prices we get when buying together. I am especially grateful to Tony for his support in helping resolve an oil related problem earlier this year. He saved me quite a lot of time and money. If you rely on oil, but don't know about the group, I suggest you make contact with him before you reorder for the winter. It costs you nothing, and you may make an appreciable saving.

Warm wishes to all for the coming winter

Letter to the Editor - Broadband misery

For some eight years I have accessed the internet by way of a mobile broadband dongle thus bypassing the usual landlines. The dongles work well enough but provide only limited capacity and speed. Recently I decided to have broadband delivered by landline. This has not been a happy experience. It has taken place in fits and start over a period of nearly eight weeks. It came on, then went off. The broadband worked, but the telephone didn't. A procession of five Openreach engineers came and went. Promises were made but not kept. Communications between engineers were non-existent. The end result is that I have broadband, but at a much lower speed than was indicated. I have a relatively poor quality telephone service. I thought that maybe I was just unlucky. However, talking to neighbours and others I find that a number of people have the same problems. It leads me to wonder if there are many more people in the Parish putting up with poor service. If there are, perhaps we should get together and make some form of group protest. If people would like to contact me I would be happy to collate a list of problems.

Landulph calendars still available

The 2015 calendars produced by the village art group are selling like hot cakes! Local artists have produced a picture for each month, either of the village or inspired by our surroundings. At £5 it's a snip and a good way to remind your friends and family what a beautiful place we live in – we have sold many which are being sent to people who have moved away. They are available from Jane Espig at Chenoweth, or from Phillida Jermain at Tamarisk - both in Fore Street. Get yours now while stocks last, or place your order on 01752 844811/847546. All proceeds go to the church fabric fund.

Help! Help! Over the last 40 years I have collected some local history in various ways from 'Old Timers' some on audio cassettes and some in print relating to their memories, but unfortunately one cassette is missing of about 5 notable characters relating their memories of life in Landulph. If I have loaned it to anybody, would you kindly let me have it back so that it can be deposited with Saltash Heritage Museum. Thank You. Reg Rice

Does Landulph need one? Do you –

- like asking friends for a lift?
- worry about driving in the lanes?
- worry that after an accident or operation you cannot drive?
- want to go to Saltash, Plymouth for an appointment, shopping visiting ?

This system would offer, at a price of about 45p per mile, volunteer drivers to assist the customer in and out of the car, helping carrying shopping etc. Training could be offered through the Cornwall Transport scheme. The idea works well in other areas. If you would be interested in using the system or becoming a volunteer driver.
