Issue no. 83 October/November 2019

Parish Council – September

Plans to create a small, new area of woodland – a copse, perhaps – have been presented to the Council. An unused area of the cricket ground is favoured but the proposals are still in the early discussion stage. There might also be some planting on the Recreation Ground

Amanda Pugh, the Parish Tree Warden, reported that the Woodlands Trust is offering free tree packs and she has suggested the cricket field. The field is owned by the Council but rented to the Cricket Club, which would be consulted. Any planting would be well clear of the boundaries. The proximity of overhead power lines would also have to be considered. The trees would be selected from native species. Councillors, who were broadly in favour of the idea, hoped that indigenous oak would feature prominently. The project also has the support of local County Councillor, Jesse Foot.

In other business, the question of trespass featured prominently. Public access to the private slipway at the bottom of Fore Street has been a contentious issue for many decades. It has now been suggested that a gate at the top of the slip would deter unauthorised access. The key issue is that, although the slipway is privately owned, there is a 2.5m wide right of way over it which allows people on foot to access the water. Any gateway would have to remain unlocked to retain the footpath and could also obstruct access by emergency services.

Councillor Butcher raised the subject of general trespass in connection with dog walking in the fields around Landulph. He encouraged walkers to stick to the footpaths and to clean up after their dogs.

No Parish Council meeting would be complete without a discussion of dog poo and this was no exception. It was reported that dog bins near the church and in Coombe Lane needed replacing; it was also questioned whether the new bin at the bottom of Fore Street would be emptied often enough and who would foot the bill. And finally, did you know that Cornwall Council offers training in dealing with dog fouling. You will be relieved to hear your councillors and Parish Clerk are qualified to deal with dog owners in person.

The Council has asked the Newsletter to carry details of the website, www.what3words.com. Apparently the app allocates a three-word code to each 3m² in the country – why? To make it easier for emergency services to identify accurately locations in remote rural regions. Visit the site to find out more. Job done!

The Council has allocated more money from the solar park fund. £400 has been given for recording the parish's oral tradition. Requests for money for street signs, regular coffee mornings and further funding for the Under 5s were turned down. It was suggested that the Under 5s might benefit from alternative funding or an allocation from the Parish's ring-fenced Youth Club Fund.

Finally, the Council expressed its thanks to Morton McLeod, the Newsletter's retiring chief political correspondent and composer of witty, erudite and wonderfully readable council reports. A new council sketch writer is waiting in the wings.

Cargreen Regatta exceeds expectations

One of the most successful regattas for years was held by the Club at the beginning of September. Around 25 boats from a range of Tamar sailing clubs took part in the end-of-season jamboree with several local craft involved in the White Sail Challenge - one of the largest local entries ever. Perfect weather compensated for an awkwardly timed tide and a number of non-sailing locals joined in the post-race entertainment which included a barbecue and live music from Cornish Jam. Late in the day a mystery was solved when a yacht which had gone missing finally arrived. We learned that Martin Worth in Sparks, had become involved with a French nuclear submarine manoeuvring in the Hamoaze and had attracted the attention of the police patrol boat!

David Wheatly in Stratos won the White Sail Challenge which also gave him a clear win in the overall summer competition. Martin Worth's season-long persistence paid off as he had a large enough lead going into the regatta to stay ahead of his nearest rival, Andrew Butcher, in Ae/ea despite his regatta difficulties.

Landulph School

The new term is already in full swing and the children are enjoying their new topic based on Superheroes. They are looking forward to inventing their own superhero ready for a dress-up day. It has also been lovely to welcome all of our new Landulph children, they have settled in brilliantly. Our final event of last term was our Race for Life. After having to postpone the event because it was too wet, the rearranged date was one of the hottest days of the summer. The children showed great determination whilst keeping themselves hydrated. We have raised an amazing £217.86 for Cancer Research.

This year we are really excited to be launching our Wild Tribe sessions for all the children. They will focus on building self-esteem and independence through exploring and experiencing the natural world. Here are some photographs from our very first session.

Thank you to our amazing PTA who spent the end of their summer holidays helping to tidy up the school grounds ready for the children to return.

Dates for your diary

8 to 14 November –
Book Fair (Landulph School Hall) 3.15pm to 4.30pm

Tuesday 17 December – Christmas Fayre (Landulph School Hall)
2pm to 5pm
(If you are interested in having a stall then please contact the school office)

If you have a child who is due to start school in September 2020, we would love to welcome you to Landulph to show you our school. Please contact the school office to arrange a visit.

Landulph Under Fives

We have spaces available in our lovely pre-school for two to five year-olds. Government funding available where applicable. Please call us on 07718 830 149 if you would like more information or to arrange to come and look around. We look forward to meeting you.

We have been busy this term learning about our topic 'All About Me'. We have been learning about ourselves and how we fit into the world. We have painted pictures of our families, had a lot of fun and made lots of mess making papier-mâché heads and painting our faces on them. We have been learning about Autumn and what this means in our world. We have coloured scarecrows and had fun discovering the different coloured leaves which are appearing in the world around us. We took a walk to the waterside and discovered lots of blackberries, insects and boats. We have welcomed a new friend this term and we are really looking forward to others joining us very soon when they have celebrated their 2nd birthday.

As always, we rely heavily on the generosity of the local community and we are extremely grateful for all your support as the government funding just isn't enough to sustain the costs of running a pre-school. We have our band night coming up on Friday 18 October with Vince Lee and the Big Combo providing the grooves for a fun packed night on the dance floor – or propping up the bar – there will be plenty for all! Landulph School PTA will be providing a hog roast (vegetarian option will be available). Tickets are £10 each and can be purchased online on the Landulph Festival website or from pre-school or any of the committee. Thank you to the Landulph Festival for helping us to put on this fun packed night.

If you would like tickets please either email or call Cat on cpacker@hotmail.co.uk or 07974 199 386.

Celebrate the New Year with the Under 5s

The Under 5s are hosting a New Year's Eve party at Landulph Memorial Hall on 31 December. We are still working on the finer details but hope you will join us for a night with your family to welcome in the New Year. We have lots of things planned but need to confirm bookings before advertising. Keep an eye on our Landulph Under Fives Facebook page for more information nearer the time

Message from Landulph PTA

Support your local primary school by:

- Generating free money for the school by logging into the Giving Machine (www.givingmachine.co.uk) and searching Landulph Primary School. Then every time you shop online you will generate a donation to the school.
- Let us recycle your used ink cartridges, just drop them into the school or leave them in my garage (Roseland Fore St).
- Get your fabulous Cargreen shopping bags £5 from any member of the PTA, feel free to message me directly.

Landulph Baby and Toddler Group

Baby and Toddler Group is busy, busy, busy!

Following the success of staying 'open for business' during the summer, our numbers have not only increased but been maintained with a healthy number of regulars.

Our babies are now toddling, filling the void left by those now attending preschool, and we have welcomed new babies, toddlers, Mums and Dads through our doors.

The knock-on effect is that more interest has been created in both the pre-school and primary school, through visits and conversations over coffee and cake.

As a consequence, we now plan to stay open over the half term holidays and probably longer into the Christmas and Easter breaks, depending on how dates fall.

Thank you to everyone for your continuing support.

Church Tower Appeal

The response to the Appeal has been magnificent and we are so grateful for the generosity and hard work of so many people. We are nearing our target figure but the fund is still open as the tenders have come in rather higher than anticipated. However we plan to start work very soon which is very exciting!

The latest contribution to the fund was £1,043.69 raised at the hugely enjoyable Fun Day held at the beautiful location of Neale Point by the generosity of the Jane and Malcolm Best family who gave the Church the use of the marquee and facilities they had for their family wedding the day before.

Richard Hosking - Church Warden

History of the new cross at Landulph Church

In 1977 a cross was given to the Methodist church at Landulph by Ida Greenwood Hosking in memory of Mr and Mrs Ernest Talbot who lived at Southwark in Cargreen. In those early days Ernest was a taxi driver and market gardener. Ida Hosking who was my father's step sister worked for the Talbots and was also housekeeper. They all attended the Methodist church where Mrs Talbot was then organist. Sadly, when Mr and Mrs Talbot passed away, Ida wanted to give something to the chapel in their memory and came up with the idea of the wooden cross. The cross was made in Cargreen by local carpenter Brian Martin who was son-in-law to Bill Blatchford, of Brooks Hayes Cargreen, and long term Churchwarden, with my father Frederick Hosking at Landulph church. When the Methodist church closed it was a wonderful gesture of our friends there to donate the cross to take pride of place at Landulph church. For this we are truly grateful .

Landulph Art Exhibition 2019

This year's art exhibition for the Landulph Festival of Music and the Arts takes place at the Memorial Hall Annexe, Cargreen, on Saturday and Sunday 26 and 27 October and Saturday 2 November between 11.00am and 4.30pm.

Delicious cream teas will be on sale from 2.30pm each day. The exhibition is well worth a visit as there is always an interesting mix of work by local talented amateur and professional artists. If you are not in the market to purchase original items, there will be plenty of cards and prints available to buy.

If you are reading this before 20 October and you could be interested in exhibiting, please contact Christene Bowman on 01752 841573, christenebowman@hotmail.co.uk. We hope to display all work and cards submitted, but limitations of space might not allow for this.

Landulph Memorial Hall – Mission Statement

At September's Landulph Memorial Hall committee meeting, Chairman John Wright quoted from its original constitution which dates from 1951. The document confirmed the conveyance of land and its purpose, well before funding and design had been agreed. I was struck by the dignity and scope of the 'founding fathers' vision of the future of the new village hall, and with John's permission reproduce this opening paragraph:

The property hereby conveyed (herein called "the trust property") shall be held upon trust for the purposes of physical and mental training and recreation and social, moral and intellectual development through the medium of a Village Hall, reading and recreation rooms, library, lectures, classes, recreations and entertainments or otherwise as may be found expedient for the benefit of the inhabitants of the Parish of Landulph in the County of Cornwall and its immediate vicinity without distinction of sex or of political, religious or other opinions subject to the provisions of these presents.

That was 1951, just 6 years after the World War ended. The country looked to a bright new future and in South East Cornwall the opening of the Tamar Bridge in 1961 opened up a new area to Plymouth's wealth and employment. It took 19 years for 1951's ambition to become reality but on 19th September 1970 the new Landulph Memorial Hall was opened and has served the community well ever since. Until then, the little Rectory Room had been the main community centre and is remembered with affection by many of Landulph's senior residents.

Morton McLeod

Oil Consortium

It is some time now since the organiser of our previous oil consortium has moved away from the village and perhaps it is time to try and organise another one.

It makes more sense if we can organise one oil delivery instead of many different smaller orders. That way we can take advantage of a discounted price while cutting down the damage to our lanes from too many oil tankers.

The main requirement would be in making a few phone calls to find out the best price of the oil, then email the info to the list of registered users. From there it would be down to individuals to contact the oil company and pay their bill before the delivery date.

If you feel you could spare a little time to do this, everyone who uses oil would be extremely grateful. Contact me on the number below.

Landulph Festival is underway

By the time this Newsletter reaches you the first events of the Landulph Festival will have taken place but there is still time to book tickets (Except for the John Williams John Etheridge evening) and make plans to enjoy the rest of the event and the many outstanding performance.

Friday, next weekend, features Vince Lee and the big Combo which is a fund raiser for the Landulph Under 5s. Details are elsewhere in this issue. On Saturday the Memorial Hall goes a bit 'sleezy' for the Moscow Drug Club, a night club-style evening of music and light refreshment. On Sunday the Festival decamps to the parish church and the mood changes to something a bit more sublime; an evening of harp music from virtuoso performer Lily Neill. Styles range from Irish jigs to Finnish tangos. There is something for all the family on Friday 25 October when the Cheap Date Company explores the humour in staircases – much more than just dance. The following day, Village Night needs no introduction though a full preview of this iconic event can be found elsewhere in this edition. On the final Sunday there is a chance to experience Shakespeare, but not as you might think you know it, with the Inn Theatre Company.

Break-out the hidden you – at Village Night

You may be forgiven for thinking that the residents of Landulph are quiet country folk leading a simple life but you would be so wrong! Village Night is everyone's opportunity to reveal their hidden talents - singing, dancing, comedy, martial arts, playing an instrument - you will be amazed.

Don't be shy! To be included in the programme and gain free entry as a performer, talk to Sally on 01752 845838 or email your details to landulphfestival@gmail.com

OR take your chance on an Open Mic slot being available on the night.

This year is going to be one of the most exciting ever, with lots of surprises in store, including live group karaoke!

Lively Line Dancing

The Lively Ladies had a fantastic night for their first event after the summer break – we learnt how to Line Dance and shed quite a lot of calories by way of a bonus. Following this event our teacher, Sally, who does everything from Line Dance to Latin, said she would be prepared to hold classes on a regular basis. As a starting point I need to see if there would be sufficient interest in the village and surrounds. This would be for male and female, young and old – possibly kicking off as a fortnightly event on a Wednesday evening and starting in the New Year. Please email me with comments, ideas etc. As long as I can get enough bodies I will go ahead.

Gardening Club

The Club has started off again after the summer break and writing this in mid-September, the weather is still very pleasant with lots of gardening jobs to be done. Those on my list say 'rescue and pot seedlings, trim lavender, trim & shape box plants' - but they won't be topiary birds!'

For October (Wednesday 9th at 7.30) we have Maggi Murray demonstrating flower and foliage arrangement. She is secretary of the Tamar Valley NAFAS and has also travelled widely contributing to floral art. The November meeting is a light-hearted photo quiz, working in pairs, apparently with small prizes. After that we'll have the Club AGM. Everyone welcome to our meetings and the first visit is free. Annual club membership is £5, talks, including raffle and refreshments, are £3, and visitor's fee after the first one is £4.

Coffee morning takes off

What started out as a small idea, after three weeks has turned into a great weekly event. The Tuesday coffee morning is a self-funding community initiative, bringing people together over a cuppa, read the newspapers, have a chat and a break from daily tasks.

If you haven't come along yet, what are you waiting for? There is a varied selection on offer, including cappuccino, Darjeeling, decaf, espresso, hot chocolate, chai, herbal varieties, plus great cakes and biscuits to whet any appetite.

The coffee morning is held on Tuesday mornings at Landulph Hall between 10.30am to 12.30pm and is open to anyone and everyone.

We already have a few volunteers to assist and are always looking out for more to help us in the future. Please phone Charlotte on 843645, if you can help.

Make a Child's Christmas Special

I have decided to continue Jack's collection for children at Christmas, but have found there is a far greater need for deprived children in Devonport whose parents are on Benefits and are unable to afford a Christmas Gift for their family. I feel this would be a longer lasting memory for the children.

Since 2006, instead of giving your friends and neighbours a Christmas card, Jack had taken a collection as a donation towards a Children's Christmas party organised by the Salvation Army.

If you wish to continue with your donation, please drop it in to Laxtons, Cargreen or give me a ring. As a reminder, the table below lists those members who decided to contribute instead of sending local Christmas cards.

Note If you would like to be more involved, the Salvation Army would be delighted if you would like to come along to assist with the wrapping (usually the beginning of December).

Nesta Jones

Nesta Jones, aged 93, died on 13 August after a short illness. Nesta lived at 10 Coombe lane until her late husband, Don, died in 2016 when she moved to St Anne's Care home in Saltash. They retired to Cargreen, where they designed and built their house They spent their summers in the UK but travelled to America for the winter, where they kept a camper in Denver They toured around the States ending up in a favourite spot on the Mexican Baja peninsula. They did this until they could no longer get travel insurance aged 80!

Nesta described her life by stating very simply, 'I thought I could, so I did.'

Bill McCrone

I would like to sincerely thank everyone who came out to help when Bill suddenly passed away at the bank holiday, you were all brilliant.

Also myself and my family have taken great comfort from all the warm wishes and kindness extended since our loss, people could not of been more thoughtful.

Since moving to Cargreen, Bill and I have been busy settling in and creating our lovely garden, in which there will be lots of happy memories.
