Parish Council September

The first meeting back in the Memorial Hall still required warm clothing - all the windows and doors were open.

Public Forum; The owners of Colloggett Barns explained their plans to create a 'granny annex' in their barn. The Chair welcomed their engagement with the council, and outlined the planning process from the council's perspective. The definition of an 'annex' was debated, and Councillors suggested the owners use the Pre-Application process.

The writer of these reports apologised to the council for some recent errors which have appeared in the newsletter, which arose through some editorial pruning. The Council suggested it would be appropriate to note that these newsletter reports are independent and are not subject to any oversight by the council.

The Footpaths Officer said she was feeling superfluous. In previous meetings it had been emphasised that members of the public should report issues directly to the relevant County Council bodies. There are currently three reports in the pipeline (stile near Salter Mill, foreshore near Penyoke Mill, Paradise Lane), but when she tried to follow them up she received the answer normally given on call centre lines – 'We are exceptionally busy at the moment...'. This was off-putting, and left her with no influence on events. The Chair put his County Councillor's hat on and said he would escalate this, but encouraged the Footpaths Officer to continue co-ordinating and monitoring issues.

The Climate Action Group's stand at the Village Day had had a moderate response. However the questionnaire circulated around the village had elicited 35 responses – about 12% of the parish – and would now be analysed. A first look at the responses indicated that the relationship of the river on Landulph was important, but people's shopping options were not. Future plans included a stall at the Winter Craft Fair, winter talks on climate topics and bi-monthly newsletter articles. Landulph seems to be ahead of other parishes in addressing climate considerations, and Cornwall has been noted as the best county council in the country for climate action.

The County Council has offered to supply red, white and blue flower seeds (poppies, daisies and cornflowers) as part of the Platinum Jubilee events, so we need to consider where we might plant them. It was agreed to ask the Gardening Club for advice (and assistance!) The vacancy on the Parish Council was still open, and councillors would be prowling for a volunteer.

The suggestion that we challenge 'Nordet' (the Breton Maritime singers performing at the festival) to a game of petanque was still active. A temporary court might be placed on the recreation ground car park. The Chair had played against a Breton team some years ago and had lost, so there was honour at stake.

Finally Councillor Braund reported the passing of Mavis Edmonds, and asked that her contribution to the Parish Council (13 years as a member, five as Chair) be remembered.

School News

What a fantastic start to the new academic year. There is certainly a greater sense of normality around the school. For the first time in a long time we were able to get the children together in their 'Houses' for our topic launch. It was wonderful watching all of the children from the different classes working alongside each other creating some amazing pieces of work. Our whole school topic is 'The Stories People Tell'. Each 'House' shared a book and then participated in a range of activities linked to it.

I would like to welcome our new children who started school for the first time, the other new families who have joined us and to the new staff who have joined the Landulph team.

There has been lots of work on the outside areas of the school over the summer: we hope you like our new refreshed look.

A big ask! I would like to set up a chess club one lunchtime for the children. Are there any keen players who would be willing to teach the children how to play? If so, please contact Elaine in the school office.

If you have a child who is due to start school in September 2022, we would love to welcome you to Landulph to show you our school.

Please contact the school office if you would like to visit us.

Landulph Under Fives

Preschool has restarted after the summer. This year's topic for the first half of the term has been: 'All About Me and All About Ourselves' The children have helped the adults create a cosy home corner with babies and the paraphernalia of domestic life. They have even made a cot for the babies to sleep in. The children have also started an 'All About Me' booklet.

The staff of our Preschool, Claire, Nicola and Kelly are all Level 3 qualified in Early Years Childcare and have over 35 years experience in Early Years between them.

Fundraising We were very lucky during the summer that Kayaks and Paddles generously donated a kayak for the raffle during the Landulph Celebrations in July. Gill Cummings was the lucky winner. On Friday 26 November Big Band Night returns many thanks to Jo. There will also be a 2022 Calendar, an ideal Christmas present with super photos of the beautiful area in which we live.

Landulph Under Fives needs to fundraise to allow the preschool to function and provide local children and families access to Early year's Education. It is a committee-led preschool and a registered charity serving the parish of Landulph and outlying villages. There is some funding from Cornwall Council, dependent on the number of children attending, and does not cover the cost of staff salaries, hall rental, insurance and equipment.

Landulph Stay and Play has reopened and looks forward to seeing younger children, babies and their carers.

We offer craft, creative activities and a snack for the children and refreshments - lots of cups of tea or coffee and biscuits - for the adults. There are indoor and outdoor activities all led by qualified staff. Do come and say hello.

Term time: Thursdays 9.45am to 11.30am, Landulph Memorial Hall.
£3.50 per child over six months; £1.50 per additional child and babies six months and under.

International Cast list for The Landulph Festival

An outstanding array of events and performances will bring a unique blend of culture, joy and fun back to Landulph during October. The Landulph Festival of Music and the Arts has a full programme each weekend throughout the month. All events will be held at the Memorial Hall and comprehensive anti-Covid precautions will be in place.

Please check our website www.landulphfestival.co.uk to check you have the most up to date information.

The Festival line-up features international classical musicians Andrey Lebedev & Bartosz Glowacki; exciting local musicians, including The Countrymen and Anna Batson; adult comedy with Johnny Cowling; and theatre with Owayado's Twisted Tales 2 (remember the dog!) and an 'Allo, 'Allo interactive dining 'experience'.

Martin Thomas, an engaging raconteur, will give an illustrated talk with the intriguing title: How the treatment of the German Kaiser by an English Surgeon led to the Great War.

We are also delighted to announce that Barrett's Privateers led by Landulph's own Gideon Barrett will take to the stage alongside Breton Sea Shanty Group, Nordet for a clash of the Celts which (it is rumoured!) might extend into an international Boules match on the following day. The Festival will close on 30 October with an opportunity to dress up and have fun dancing the night away to ABBA Tribute Band Take A Chance On Us.

The Festival will run at weekends from Friday 1 October, with a licensed bar open at all events. The Art Exhibition featuring a variety of local artists' works will be open for viewing at performances and every weekend afternoon from 2 to 23 October, 2-5pm. Cream teas will be available between 3pm and 4.30pm.

Further details and tickets are available from our website www.landulphfestival.co.uk or Clare:07866 680 971. Season tickets offer fantastic value, even if you don't plan to attend all events. In recent years the Festival has supported numerous local charities and good causes with substantial donations and we are keen to continue to do this with your help.

We look forward to welcoming you to Landulph Memorial Hall in October.

At the End of The Year

Jen Hambly concludes her memoirs of a nature lover with recollections from Autumn and winter 20 years ago when Foot and Mouth disease locked down Cornwall.

October 17 Masses of birds around. Flocks of wood pigeons. Newly liberated pheasants foraging in the maize field. Spindle berries, an attractive flamingo pink. Found some field mushrooms for a tasty lunch

October 21 Beautiful clear Autumn day .

November 3 Another beautiful day after a cold night. Many birds around.

November 15 Plenty of berries – spindle, sloe, and stinking iris. Birds, too - Yellow wagtails, croaking herons and a lonely egret.

December 2 Most of the leaves now dropped and the raw, grey days are here. Today a mist hung over the river with ghostly yachts showing through geese calling from the Devon shore.

December 17 Several clear frosty days with easterly winds. The Tamar mud appears in silky lavender tones. The mud seems to be getting higher, whereas the main channel is more definitely scoured. The swan family at Salter Mill is still intact, the young ones partly white and all dipping their necks into a bucket of food that Liz Dunn had provided. Going up Tinnel Hill, the hedgerow on the left has been thoroughly pruned and built up under a Countryside Commission Incentive. The banks now seem about 9 foot tall and one of my spaniels took a flying leap off the top, landing in an undignified roll onto the lane.

December 13 The year's Nature Notes Project has now ended. It has made me more observant on my walks. I now possess Christmas binoculars to spot the birds more easily. The last few days of the year, wonderfully defined by frost, have been excellent for walking. The wheat is growing in the fields and catkins have formed up, ready to open before long. And the next year's cycle will roll on.

September 2021 - fast forward 20 years! Although I don't walk as far as I did during the Notes, from what I've seen this year the wild flowers are doing very well.

I've noticed for the first time a big patch of yellow hawksbeard in the Coombe. Something else new at the bottom of the first field after the stile at Coombe Creek is a large swathe of mauve, blue and pink forage crop, mainly vetches and clover. I think this will be good for the insects, birds, animals and soil. Walk up the footpath towards Haye Farm and there is another band of planting this time sunflowers, millet, chicory and sorrel.

There are always interesting things to see in Landulph and not just botany.

Landulph Film Club

A consultation was held recently with regular season ticket holders to seek opinions about restarting the film shows given the present situation with Covid in Cornwall.

The consensus was for caution so for moment the situation will be reviewed in December.

It was noted that in the two years preceding the pandemic audiences for the Film Club screenings had diminished. Possibly the spread of film streaming services was diminishing the attraction of the Film Club. The financial viability of the Film Club depends on attracting an audience. Each show incurs costs of about £120, Hence the need of an audience to meet these costs.

Sun shines on Cargreen Regatta

A large fleet of 34 boats took part in the annual Cargreen Regatta, one of the end-of-season highlights for Tamar based yachts. On shore the club and grounds were full of competitors, members and visitors enjoying the sunshine, live music, food and refreshment. On the competitive front, Cargreen based yachts have seldom shone in their home event, but this year there was a good turn out in the White Sail Challenge, a recently introduced and less formal form of yacht racing. However, despite valiant efforts in perfect conditions, the prizes went elsewhere on the river.

Results: Cruiser A, 1 Jos of Avon (Mike Nuttall); Cruiser B, 1 Whisper (Tim Crudginton); White Sail Challenge, 1 Alouette (Steve Oliver).

Cutting your Electricity Costs

Saving electricity is good for your purse and good for the environment. We all use lots of electrical appliances but do you know which appliances use the most electricity? The Energy Saving Trust estimate that fridges and freezers use the most electricity mainly because they are on all the time.

Percentage usage of electricity by appliance for the average household

When you need to buy a new appliance, choose an energy efficient one and be aware that the energy labelling changed in March 2021 to a simple A to G scale (A is the most efficient).

Here are some simple tips to saving electricity:

- Check the door seal on your fridge/freezer, don't overload it, make sure it doesn't need defrosting and that the back is dust free.

- Use a lower temperature on your washing machine and reduce the number of washing and dishwashing cycles - do full loads only
- Air dry clothes rather than using a tumble drier
- Only boil water in the kettle that you need
- Cook using the correct size burner
- Switch off appliances at the plug that don't need to be on standby
- Switch off unnecessary lights and change to LEDs
- Take shorter showers
- Set water heater to lowest comfortable setting
- Turn heating down 1 degree and don't heat rooms you aren't using
- Check water and heating timer times are relevant to your needs
- If you have solar energy do washing and dishwashing when the sun is shining!
- Investigate using a green energy supplier

Local grave records to be digitised

Landulph churchyard, along with every other churchyard in the Truro Diocese, is being digitally mapped along with the parish records, meaning parishes and public will now be able to view the information freely and easily.

The project is free to parishes and all the work will be done by a team from Atlantic Geomatics, the company hired by the Church of England nationally, who will access the churchyard and church so that the mapping and digitizing of the parish records can occur.

Landulph's digital records and images will be integrated with the Church Heritage Record, the national database of the Church of England, to which the diocese has access.

A simplified version of the digital map and images of the records will be freely available for the public to view. Other more complex functionality, such as managing the map and searching across the national database, will be available on payment of a subscription.

Community Tree Planting Event

A small Copse pack of native trees from the Woodland Trust is to be planted on the perimeter of the Searle Memorial Cricket Field.

The planting follows the successful merger of Saltash Town Cricket Club and Callington Cricket Club. Ongoing improvements are being made to the entrance, pavilion and pitch at the ground

The Copse pack consists of 30 saplings of silver birch, rowan, and wild cherry with protective spirals and canes. The planting of these trees is important in increasing woodland and tree canopy cover as part of the Forest for Cornwall initiative. It will create a community woodland asset protecting and enhancing biodiversity and ecology.

I am looking for volunteers to help plant these saplings; tree planting can be a safe way to get outdoors and connect with nature whilst playing a part in the green recovery.

The late Michael (Mike) Tyrrell

Mike and his wife Maggie moved to Cargreen in 2014, living on the corner of Coombe Drive and Coombe Lane, and reliant on a wheelchair to get around. He would spend many happy hours in his garage workshop, fettling anything he could lay his hands on, and chatting with passers-by. Conversations with Mike were never dull and always a wee bit cheeky too.

His health failed slowly and he died in August in a nursing home. His humanist funeral was a delight, being held outdoors in burial parkland outside Pensilva. Family and mourners gathered in a circle of large Bodmin granite boulders while the celebrant summarised Mike's eventful life in and after service with the Royal Navy.

Four generations of the Tyrrell family bade Mike a sad farewell but at the same time celebrating a life well lived and generously shared. Maggie loves her home and community and will remain in Coombe Lane supported by family and friends and with Snoopy the dog for company.

Thanks

I would very much like to thank Kayaks and Paddles (Plymouth) Ltd. for their extremely generous prize of a kayak and accessories I won in the Landulph Under Fives raffle. It is very much appreciated and will get a great deal of use by our family. It is good to know that the raffle provided some greatly needed funds for the Landulph Under Fives.

Local Christmas Cards - helping Children in Need
Since 2006, Cargreen has been donating to the above Charity. Instead of popping a card through your neighbour's door, why not make a donation to the above charity.

Thank you so much to all those who contributed to raising funds for the Salvation Army Children in Need (sponsored by the Salvation Army). Last year we raised an amazing £553. Cargreen has been so generous, particularly in these difficult times. The table below lists those members who decided to donate instead of sending a Christmas card.

Life Saving Automatic Defibrillators

There are two defibrillators located within our parish, both for public use in an emergency.

1. Landulph Memorial Hall in Fore Street
2. Cargreen Yacht Club, Coombe Lane.

Landulph Memorial Hall defibrillator:

Located adjacent to front doors

To use you are required to input the code 1111 to unlock, and press the green 'tick' button to open for access.

Cargreen Yacht Club defibrillator

Located on the front wall of the building before you reach the front doors.

This unit is left unlocked, and so no unlock code is required.

Please remember in the event that you may need to use one of the above units, that in a cardiac arrest situation: continuous CPR is essential while someone else goes to obtain the defibrillator.

Next edition copy date is 15 Nov. 2021. Inclusion of any material after this date will be subject to space available.
